Re: Contractor Submitted Questions (to be included with Addendum 1, dated August 10, 2018)

The follow questions have been submitted for clarification. The questions asked are presented in bold print and are followed by their corresponding responses are noted in italics.

General Questions:

1. Is a bid bond required for the project?

Yes, a bid bond is required, as described on the 2nd page of the advertisements for bids in the bid manual.

2. Do we need to have a registered surveyor do the staking or can we complete it ourselves?

A professional surveyor is not necessary for this project.

3. Do we have any restoration for the project?

Much of the project area is currently free of lawn cover, so a line item for restoration has not been included. However, it is expected that the areas around the project area will be maintained in a neat and orderly fashion and that all areas disturbed by the construction operations of this project, including all access routes, will be returned to their preconstruction condition at no additional cost to the owner and as approved by the Architect. Contractors should prepare their bid with this in mind and plan accordingly.
